

A British entrepreneur built the castle as a testament of love during the Colonial era. However, the construction was halted after the man learned that his wife was lost at sea on her journey to be with him. Now, with the broken parapets, the half-completed castle stands as a symbol Mr. Kellie's shattered heart.

Getting there: Located at Batu Gajah, 7.45 miles south of Ipoh, you can reach the castle using inter-town buses from Ipoh.
