

Kinabalu Park, the entrance to Mount Kinabalu, is located at 5,200 feet above sea level and is the main starting point for the summit trail that leads to the top of Mt. Kinabalu. Its covers an area of 468 sq miles and is made up of Mount Kinabalu, Mount Tambayukon and the foothills.

The mountains have a fascinating geological history, taking 'just' a million years to form. The mighty Mount Kinabalu is actually a granite massif that was later thrust upwards through the crust of the surface. KK Heritage Walk is a unique way of introducing Sabah's Heritage to visitors. A walk allows tourists to visit historical sites and structures, stroll down the oldest street in Kota Kinabalu, learn about its pre-war history, when Sabah was known as North Borneo, and post-independence eras while mingling with the locals.
