

Longhouses, used by the Ibans which form the largest percentage of Sarawak's population, are built on stilts about a three-feet above the ground. As the name suggests, Borneo longhouses are long and narrow consisting of several rooms. Each family occupies a room. One longhouse typically accommodates between 20 and 50 families.

Phoca PDF