

Selangor is Malaysia's most developed state. Located on the west-coast of Peninsular Malaysia, its nine districts cover 48,262.76 sq. miles. The state-of-the-art KL International Airport (KLIA) located at Sepang in Selangor is the principal gateway to Malaysia. The state's appeal lies in its wide range of attractions: natural, man-made, historical and cultural. Most of these attractions are within close proximity to KL and can be covered within a few days.
